Broadway Ramblings: Easter Bonnet Competition, Broadway Cares, and Where to Eat in the Theater District

And, if you're looking for some nearby places to eat -- here are a few to consider:

Opry City -- at 47th Street and Broadway, a four-story tribute to Nashville and country music with a two-floor restaurant, two music stages, and a shop.

Junior's -- expanding their Broadway cheesecake and deli empire into a mega-space at 49th Street and Broadway. The original Times Square location is still on 45th Street between Broadway and Eighth Avenue.

Tender Steak and Sushi -- in the Sanctuary Hotel, a polished loungey restaurant offering up solid Asian and American fare. There's also a bar where you can dine on a more casual menu. 47th Street between Broadway and Sixth Avenue.

Haven Rooftop -- also in the Sanctuary Hotel, a year-round rooftop bar and restaurant that's in high demand, particularly during the warmer months
